OVERSPEED TRAINING

Overview

OverSpeed training works by making the body move faster during a known movement pattern to reset the normal reaction speed of the body.

The science involves reducing the overall weight of the club to allow the player to create a faster swing speed. By starting with the light club first, the player will create much faster speeds during the training. With our detailed and tested training protocols, we see a 5% gain in swing speed in about 6 weeks of regular practice.

10 MINUTES / 3x A WEEK

Become a speed expert and delve into the science behind generating speed with this 3 level online certification course. We cover the history of overspeed training, coaching applications, business strategies, junior development, and in depth biomechanics. This certification uses interactive learning to provide you with a comprehensive learning experience.
